[generalNote]:

Title based on contents of fonds.

Nodyn | Note
[generalNote]:

Papers donated by Mrs J. Mackinlay in 1955 (the 'Mackinlay Group') were originally catalogued as a separate sequence (designated M1-82; see NLW, Schedule of Printed Books, Letters, and Papers relating to Iolo Morganwg and members of his family... (1955)). With the exception of M68, M70 and M72-82, which are now NLW MS 19899E, they were subsequently integrated into the rest of the archive (see NLW MSS 21281-2E, 21285-6E, 21397E, 21410E and 21419-20E).

Nodyn | Note
[generalNote]:

Formerly known as the 'Iolo Aneurin Williams Manuscripts' or 'Casgliad Iolo A. Williams' (named for the donor of the majority of the archive). Those manuscripts catalogued up to the 1970s were previously designated Iolo A. Williams (or IAW) 1-145.

Nodyn | Note
[generalNote]:

Twelve printed books (some annotated) belonging to Iolo Morganwg or Taliesin ab Iolo have been transferred to the existing 'Casgliad Iolo Morganwg' in the Printed Collections Department (August 2016). These comprise the seven volumes numbered 1-4, 6, 7-8 in NLW, Schedule of Printed Books, Letters, and Papers relating to Iolo Morganwg and members of his family... (1955); together with copies of Thomas Llewelyn, Remarks on the British Tongue... (1769), John Davies, Antiquae Linguae Britannicae... Rudimenta (1621) and Edward Williams, Salmau yr Eglwys yn yr Anialwch (1812), donated by Iolo A. Williams, January-August 1959; a copy of the 'Salmau Cân' of Edmwnd Prys from the Ellis Wynne edition of the Welsh Book of Common Prayer (1710), donated by Iolo A. Williams and Ursula H. Williams, 1954; and an incomplete copy of The Historie of Cambria, ed. by David Powel (1584, STC 4606). A further four volumes noted in the NLW Annual Reports 1958-60 (Thomas Paine, Rights of Man (1792) and Mark Wilks, The Origin and Stability of the French Revolution. A Sermon... (1791) bound in one volume, The Book of Common Prayer (1802) and Hymns for Public Worship (1802) also bound in one volume, Owen Jones and William Owen[-Pughe], Barddoniaeth Dafydd ab Gwilym (1789) and Thomas Richards, A Welsh Grammar (1804)), and the remaining four volumes listed in the 1955 Schedule have not been located.

Nodyn | Note

Edward Williams (Iolo Morganwg, 1747-1826), stonemason, poet and literary forger, was born 10 March 1747 in Llancarfan, Glamorgan, to Edward Williams (1715-1795), stonemason, and Ann Matthews (1713-1770), and lived for most of his life in Flemingston (or Flimston), Glamorgan, apart from periods spent in London, Kent and elsewhere. His only schooling came from his mother and from the numerous poets who taught him their craft. He worked as a monumental mason and builder. He also tried his hand at various other trades but with little success; he was imprisoned for debt in Cardiff Gaol in 1786. In 1781 Iolo married Margaret Roberts (1749-1827). They had four children, of which two, Margaret (b. 1782) and Taliesin (1787-1847), survived into adulthood. Iolo Morganwg died at Flemingston on 18 December 1826. Iolo had various literary, antiquarian and political interests. He wrote poetry in both Welsh and English, his Poems Lyrical and Pastoral appearing in 1794. He became a Unitarian from about 1797 and wrote many hymns, published in Salmau yr Eglwys yn yr Anialwch (1812, 1827 and 1834). Following the French Revolution he had radical sympathies. However he has become notorious for his forgeries and fabrications. The edition of Dafydd ap Gwilym published in 1789 contained an appendix of additional poems which were in fact written by Iolo. The Myvyrian Archaiology (1801, 1807), of which he was an editor contained many of his fabrications. These forgeries went largely undiscovered until the early twentieth century. His interest in the ancient druids led to his unveiling of the Gorsedd of Bards of Great Britain, which first met on Primrose Hill, London, in 1792. He claimed it to be a miraculous survival from ancient times and it persists as an integral part of the ritual and pageantry of the National Eisteddfod. However it too was invented by Iolo. Following Iolo's death his son Taliesin, a schoolmaster in Merthyr Tydfil, edited his manuscripts and upheld his legacy, apparently completely oblivious to the forgeries.

Hanes Gwarchodol | Custodial history

Following Taliesin Williams's death in 1847 his son Edward produced a catalogue of the manuscripts and papers of Iolo Morganwg in the family's possession, divided into four groups, Classes A-D (additionally Class E consisted of printed books, see T13/2).

Some years later a large portion of the papers were acquired by Lord and Lady Hall, Llanover. These were deposited in the National Library in 1916 (see NLW, Llanover Manuscripts) and consisted of the majority of Class B (24 out of 30), all 75 volumes in Class C and a further 17 volumes apparently not listed by Edward Williams (confusingly these were then designated as Class E).

Besides Taliesin's papers, the manuscripts and papers donated by Iolo Aneurin Williams and family from 1953 onwards consist mostly of the papers in Class D and a few of the missing Class B. The vellum rolls listed as Class A remain missing.

Trefniant | Arrangement:

The papers in this sub-fonds have been rearranged a number of times, by Iolo himself, Taliesin ab Iolo and Aneurin Williams, as well as by several staff members at NLW. Where there is evidence of an original or early order (such as E3, E8/6-9) the papers have generally not been rearranged. Where papers have been arranged more recently and have been foliated (E1/1, E6/1, 3, 8, E7/19, E8/1-2, 4-5, E9/2) these have not been rearranged.

The remainder of the sub-fonds has been sorted so that, as far as is possible, material of a similar nature is grouped together. It should be borne in mind that Iolo's practice of reusing scraps of paper, sometimes for several different purposes, necessarily results in some papers potentially belonging to multiple files; their placement is therefore somewhat arbitrary.

Rhestrau cymorth | Finding aids:

Each box (except E3 and E11) contains a more detailed list of contents.

Disgrifiadau deunydd | Related material:

NLW MSS 21387-433 (Miscellaneous papers) were assembled, during the 1970s, from loose papers of a nature similar to this sub-fonds (had cataloguing of the archive continued at that time it is reasonable to suppose that many of these papers would have been treated in a similar fashion); for papers relating to a particular subject readers are advised to consult both groups.
